Cooke's charges - or his procedure

University and other schools.

Syracuse, N. Y., March 16.—Chancellor James R. Day of Syracuse university is not at all worried over the charges made against him by the Rev. George A. Cooke of Brandon, Vt.

The Rev. Mr. Cooke has brought charges against Chancellor Day, alleging that he has violated the rules of the Methodist Episcopal church, which forbids the defamation of magistrates. The specifications of his charges are based on extracts from Chancellor Day's book, "The Field of Prosperity." In an interview Chancellor Day said:

"Cooke is something of a joke to those who know him. He seems to have a mania for bringing charges against some one, and he has exercised that privilege many times in the past. Something over a week ago he wrote me a letter saying that he intended to bring charges against me, among other things he said: 'This is a serious matter for the republic. It may as well be fought out over you as any one else.'"

"I am utterly indifferent to Mr. Cooke's charges or his procedure. If the truth comes when it is necessary I believe I can successfully defend myself against his accusations. I have not received any communication from the presiding elder, with whom he filed the paper."

Mr. Day added: "The action was taken in New York, because my formal connection is with the New York conference."

Mr. Day has been chancellor of Syracuse university since 1894.

He referred to President Roosevelt's recent message to congress as reading "like the ravings of a disordered mind," and is recognized as one of the ablest leaders of conservatism. Born in Maine in 1846, Chancellor Day was graduated from Bowdoin college in 1874 with the degree of S. T. D., and entered the ministry of the Methodist Episcopal church. He held pastorates in Batavia and Portland, Me., and in Boston and New York, and in 1904 was elected a bishop by the general conference, but declined. He is said to possess unusual ability as a pulpit orator. Chancellor Day has received honorary degrees from Northwestern university and other schools.

LOCAL AFFAIRS

Springtime is coming and with it the spring house-cleaning, both in homes and municipalities. It is a time for the general overhauling of affairs in general. In turning over the new leaf, why not begin with the needs of the city. Janesville wants, and should have immediately, a new fire engine. The one at present available for use is old and dilapidated and even if put in repair would not last for many years longer in the due course of affairs. The city fathers should properly equip this important one of the city government guaranteeing adequate fire protection. The steam street-roller problem will take care of itself. The roller will not be needed for some weeks yet and will be taken care of in time to the satisfaction of all concerned. Then comes the question of bridges and the sewerage system. This is a complex problem. To repair the Fourth avenue bridge is probably what will be ultimately done, but it does not get away from the fact that a new bridge is needed, both here and at Racine street. This is a matter to be left to the voters of the city and upon their decision will be based the actions of the council. While the question of needs of the city are under discussion the proposition to purchase the Mitchell property in the fifth ward also comes up for discussion and the advisability of buying it to hold as city property for future generations to enjoy is one that deserves consideration before being decided in the negative. The Park & Pleasure Drive Association is an organization that promises to do much for the betterment of the city in making it beautiful and establishing drives and beauty spots. It deserves the approval of the citizens generally and the cooperation of the council. There are some of the problems that confront us at the annual spring house-cleaning time that should be thought over carefully.

CROPS AND PRICES

In discussing the outlook for the coming season of prices and the crops which bear a wonderful relationship in the world of finance, the Wall Street Journal says the following about the prospects for the coming year based upon both government and private information:

"Throughout the entire wheat belt the crops of the past week has been very good. From Texas to Minnesota the crop has a good stand, excellent color and is growing rapidly. Spring rains have put the soil in good condition for plowing in the south-west, so that the fear of a dry spring is no longer a factor. In the cotton belt farming operations are well under way in the lower tier of counties, with apparently no lack of available labor.

"The middle of March, in nearly all sections of the country, birds farm and field work in its first stages of activity under conditions of soil and weather that speak well for the future. Live stock has come through the winter in good condition and the resources of the grazing and cropping districts are in good shape for the new season. Among farmers generally and stockmen as well, an unusual degree of attention has been given to the economics of production, and it is fair to assume that the season's yields will be made at a lower cost than usual.

"The trend of prices of grain, cotton and livestock still continues downward. For the first time this year the improved prospects of the autumn yields figured in option prices of wheat. September bids for new spring wheat were far enough below old crop futures to depress the whole line of values from spots to the remotest options. The week's decline in wheat averaged a cent a day. Government's total of wheat reserve in farmers' hands helped to the same end, as did also Argentina's record shipment of 7,376,000 bushels of wheat. The strongest feature of the grain trade was the advance in corn due to low government estimates of reserves, which in turn was checked by large Argentine corn offerings and good harvest prospects there. Cotton lost nearly half a cent and was selling below 11 cents a pound for spots at Savannah at the end of the week."

STILL HAMMERING

The Taft movement throughout the nation has taken that stage of development which closely resembles a whirlwind or even a moderate cyclone. State after state falls in line for the big War Secretary and he and his friends keep hammering home the truth that he is the choice of the people both east and west. In Wisconsin the businessmen have also taken a hand in the deal. They believe Wisconsin should be on the safe side and should elect delegates favorable to Taft rather than make an endorsement of a candidate whose backing is only that of his own native state. Perhaps they are right, but it would appear they are also hammering the old factional fight and internal strife in the republican party to no purpose. For years the republicans of Wisconsin have been divided on matters of reform and methods of securing them. For years the bitter factional spirit existed. The question when a man ran for office was: "Was he for or against us?" If for, approval met his efforts; if against, he was fought tooth and nail. This old spirit of antagonism was dying out. Why revive it?

THE FAIR

The question of holding a county fair in Janesville comes up for consideration at the mass-meeting at the city hall on Wednesday. It is to be hoped that all the farmers of the immediate vicinity can see their way to be present to discuss the matter thoroughly as well as the businessmen of the city. It is a matter that is of importance to the whole county and one that should be considered carefully. The decision that a fair shall be held is merely the opening gun in the campaign. The raising of the money necessary to rent the grounds and make the necessary repairs and offer the premiums is yet to be accomplished. Ten thousand dollars will be needed and the idea is to sell stock to this amount to defray the expenses until it becomes self-sustaining. These and other matters are up for discussion and everyone interested should be present.

The county board will have several hard problems to solve when it meets in May. The farmers' institutes have been teaching the building of new roads in the country where needed and rebuilding the old ones so that they will be serviceable. It will be up to the township at the spring election to decide which shall be done and to the county board to see that it is done.

In Chicago there used to be a man whose nickname was "Fire Alarm." Such a name might be applied to men of the calibre who are continually seeing the evil side of everything. Too many "Fire Alarms" kill any city.

The spring freshets should not be waited for to clean up those objectionable back yards. The water and filth should be cleaned out now before the danger of contagion becomes so imminent that it is necessary for the health officer to order them cleaned.

It would appear that there are still matters which might be included in the matter of reform that are not still we should be satisfied with what has been done and grin and smile at the reforms that do not please us.

EZRA KENDALL AND HIS MERRY QUIPS

Pleased Fair Sized Audiences at the Myers on Saturday—The Play Is Shae Farce.

Chautau—"The auto, she needs attention."

Don Griddle—"HE needs attention—that's a touring-car, not a run-about!"

Chautau—"The man we run into wants more damages."

Griddle—"Run into him again?"

Griddle, after entertaining the small audience with the sleeping-car wash-room story and numerous amusing quips—"As I came upon these intelligent faces I am reminded that it's hard to get the money when it's lent."

Ezra Kendall and his company presented "The Land of Dollars" before two audiences which were appreciative but did not crowd the house, on Saturday. The play is built solely, it would appear, to give the principal his chance and he avails himself of the opportunity thus afforded in the same amusing fashion which has made him famous. The members of the cast are mere tools for his wit and the piece goes along with a merry jig, impossible situations and undeveloped and intricately intertwined heart-interest being tossed about in generous chunks to persuade the on-lookers that they are getting something more than a mere money-making monologue for their money. "The Land of Dollars" is sheer farce, with no contrast or relief, but the people seem to like it.

What Do You Want When You Choose a Dentist?

The very first essential is "Good work."
"Any old thing" won't do when it comes to work in your mouth.
Another desideratum is Painless work.

A careful, conscientious, painstaking operator like Dr. Richards uses every possible means at hand to avoid causing you pain.

A third feature which quite a figure is "Reasonable Prices."

They say you can pay $5,000 for an automobile, or you can get a good serviceable machine for $1,000 if you wish. Some makers get far more than others for their output.

It is the same in Dentistry.

Some dentists prefer to do a small practice at large prices to each individual.

Others like Dr. Richards, prefer to do a large practice at a smaller fee from each patient.

Dr. Richards has fixed up many a decayed tooth for 75c, and sent the patient away so satisfied in every way that he has sent all his family and friends for their work.

Whereas he might have charged the man $2.00 and never seen him again.

Sum it up and you find it about this way—

"Good work."
"Painless work."
"Reasonable Prices."

NEW HOSPITAL TO BE BUILT SOON

WOULD COST FIFTY THOUSAND DOLLARS TO COMPLETE.

THIS IS PLAN DISCUSSED

Plan Would Be to Issue Bonds Secured by First Mortgages on Hospital Property and That of St. Joseph's Convent.

It is planned to erect, within a short time, a four-story model hospital structure on the property of the Mercy Hospital grounds. This was the plan discussed yesterday at a meeting of the city physicians and the sisters at the present hospital building. The plans thus far formulated are that the money to defray the expense be raised by issuing bonds protected by a first mortgage on the present hospital property and St. Joseph's convent property. A committee of three physicians—Mrs. Sutherland, Dwight and Woods—were appointed to confer with the Mother Superior as to the means of raising the funds needed. The present hospital building will be used as a nurses' home.

CHICAGO EXPERTS FIND NO EVIDENCE OF HYDROPHOBIA

In Spinal Cord of Dog Declared Rabid by Wisconsin Authorities—Dr. Merritt Will Report to Council Tonight.

When Health Commissioner W. D. Merritt received word from the state hygienic laboratory at Madison that the apparently sound, healthy dog which had been selected at random was afflicted with the rabies, he resolved to have some other laboratory pass upon the question. With the aid of the police officers he examined the headless carcass of Mr. Dog from the city dump and dissected out some sections of the spinal cord. These he forwarded to the Columbus laboratory, 102 State street, Chicago, an institution headed by Health Commissioner Evans of that city and recognized as authority by the American Medical Association. A telegram sent on March 10 contained this message: "Full to find rabid bodies—must stain more." A letter sent on the 14th confirmed the preliminary report with the following statements:

"Specimens presented consist of several pieces of the spinal cord from 1 to 2 inches in length. Sections stained for Negri bodies show them absent. There is also absence of inflammation of the cord. We find several fragments of metal in the specimens but can attach no significance to them by our examination. Thanking you, etc."

Dr. Merritt will report these findings to the city council this evening. Frank Gruner of Portage and P. E. Ramsey of Sparta, representing two of the road-repair companies, are again in the city and will be present at the session. It is possible but not very probable that the much-mooted question may be finally settled.

The committee on sewers, to which was referred the street assessment committee's plans for the construction work this season, will probably submit a report.

CURRENT ITEMS.

Too Much Alcohol: Charles Evermann, an associate of E. A. Hardy in the reproduction of pictures on glass, was found in a helpless condition, leaning against a tree at the corner of East and Court streets, Saturday evening, and taken to the station. It is said to have been the man's habit in the past to absent-mindedly place the brushes saturated with ether and alcohol in his mouth while working at his calling. Whether this or a few bonafide drinks were responsible for his condition, remains to be determined. He is a quiet individual of gentlemanly address and, having cordially recovered, was released this morning.

E. F. U.: Regular meeting of Janesville Assembly No. 171, E. F. U., at their hall last evening. All members are earnestly requested to be present as business of importance will come before the meeting.

F. & A. M.: Special communication of Janesville Lodge No. 55, F. & A. M., at Masonic Temple, 7:30 tonight. Work. Visiting brethren invited.

Five Youths in Lockup: Five East side youths of tender years who had been experimenting with a half dozen bottles of beer and gave an Indian war dance on South Main street, were taken to the lockup and compelled to spend the rest of the evening and a part of the Sabbath there. Two of them were encumbered with a lot of oval postal cards which they had obtained in some unknown quarter.

To Exhibit Here: Henry Reinhardt will bring to Janesville the first week of April between thirty and forty of the best European and American painters' work from his galleries in Milwaukee and Chicago. It will be one of the most notable exhibits here in recent years.

Eunson vs. Bear: A jury was chosen to try the case of Charles Eunson vs. Robert Bear, brought by the plaintiff to recover from the defendant for alleged unnecessary violence in arresting him. All of the jurors not serving in this case were excused by Judge Grimm until Wednesday morning. Atty. W. J. Korschaw of Milwaukee represents Eunson and Atty. T. S. Nolan is counsel for the defendant.

JURY TRYING WELCH CASE COULD REACH NO AGREEMENT

After Deliberating for Ten Hours and Action Will Have to be a Trial Again—8 to 4 for Acquittal.

After deliberating for ten hours on the merits of the damage action brought by Franklin Cook against City Marshal Philo Welch of Edgerton on alleged false arrest, the jury at 8:30 Saturday evening sent word to Judge Grimm that the prospects of an agreement were hopeless and were duly discharged. The last vote, it is said, stood 8 to 4 for acquittal. This means a new trial unless the case is dismissed or settled out of court.

A SYRIAN PRIEST HERE ON SUNDAY

Rt. Rev. Salmone of La Crosse Said Mass According to Melchite Rite.

Yesterday morning at St. Patrick's church Rt. Rev. Salmone, a Syrian priest with headquarters at La Crosse, performed high mass, according to the Melchite rite. Rev. Salmone wore vestments similar to those worn by the High Priest of the Temple at Jerusalem a thousand years before Christ. It took two years to make them; the priest's sister and thirteen other girls working almost constantly upon them. Rev. Salmone was here in the interests of the Syrian colony of La Crosse which hopes shortly to erect a church of its own. The Melchite rite is the oldest in the history of the church of Rome and is the rite approved by St. James, the patriarch of Jerusalem. Rev. Salmone is under the jurisdiction of the Pope and has a special permission to perform mass according to this rite after the custom of the eastern church.

SYDNEY CHEERS UNITED STATES

AUSTRALIANS GLAD TO HEAR
FLEET WILL VISIT THEM.

WARM WELCOME ASSURED

Omaha and People Alike Delighted —Record Target Practice Begins in Magdalena Bay.

Sydney, Mar. 16.—There was a dramatic scene Sunday at a great gathering of citizens when at the conclusion of an address on the subject of national defense, the premier, Alfred Deakin, read a cablegram announcing that the American fleet of battleships would visit Sydney and Melbourne. He called for three cheers for the United States, and the audience rose on a mass and responded with deafening hurrahs.

The prime minister said he was sure that such a welcome as an American fleet had never known outside of its own country would be accorded it by Australia, and the cheering that followed this statement seemed evidence of the fact that the Australians, one and all, have a feeling stronger than mere friendship for the American people and their navy.

All Australia Delighted.

Melbourne, Mar. 16.—The Australian commonwealth, officially and generally, with pleasure the announcement from Washington that the American battleship fleet will visit the Antipodes next July or August. The federal ministers are delighted with the idea of such a visit, the minister of defense, Thomas Erwing, saying that the presence of America's fleet would be most gratifying to all Australians.

"We feel that our future in the Pacific," he said, "is bound up with that of the United States."

The Americans will not have left their country's smiling little landlocked harbor at Pago Pago far behind before they will be greeted doubtless by British warships and escorted to Sydney. Sydney is the headquarters of Great Britain's south Pacific fleet, and a naval base of much importance, and the welcome the visitors from the United States will have will be overwhelming.

Target Practice Begins.

San Diego, Cal., Mar. 16.—The American battleship fleet now at anchor in Magdalena bay, lower California, begins the serious work of record target practice Monday, according to official wireless dispatches received here, and for the next two or three weeks the usually quiet waters of that harbor will splash and dance under the rain of shot and shell, and the real work of the cruise, to all outside the engine holds and chartrooms, will be under way.

SAYS HE WAS KEPT PRISONER.

E. H. Jack, Peoria Millionaire, Makes Charge Against Children.

Chicago, Mar. 16.—Charges that he was confined as a prisoner in the Palmer house for two weeks last January have been made by Edward H. Jack, a millionaire of Peoria, whose children are fighting for his estate.

It is also claimed by Mr. Jack that after he was released from the hotel he discovered that he was said to have signed a declaration of trust, conveying all his property, personal and real estate, to a Chicago trust company. This company has now asked for the appointment of a trustee with powers of a conservator.

Mrs. Anna E. Dwyer, 3837 Grand boulevard, is one of the daughters, who are aggressive in the fight. She was said to be in Peoria. She is a divorcee, as is her sister, Mrs. Minnie H. Young of St. Louis.

Search for Victims of Explosion.

Natchez, Miss., Mar. 16.—All day Sunday city officials and volunteers engaged in searching the ruins of the Natchez Drug company's five-story building which was wrecked Saturday by an explosion of gas, causing the death of eight persons. At nightfall the remains of two of the victims had been recovered. Cleveland Lamb, the chemist in charge of the laboratory, and Inez Netterville, one of the young women employed in that department.

Senator Whyte Seriously Ill.

Baltimore, Md., Mar. 16.—United States Senator William Pinckney Whyte is ill at his home in this city, and his physicians say that while his condition is not critical, it is somewhat alarming. He advanced age—he is 82 years old—is against his chances of improvement. He was elected by the legislature now sitting to fill the unexpired term of the late Senator Gorman.

ORCHARD IS BOUND TO DIE

CONFESSION MURDERER TO BE SENTENCED WEDNESDAY.

Seemingly Wilkes to Suffer Extreme Penalty for the Slaying of Former Gov. Steunenberg.

Boise, Idaho, Mar. 16.—On the morning of his forty-second birthday, next Wednesday, in the district court of Canyon county, Harry Orchard, the self-confessed murderer of former Gov. Steunenberg, who was killed by the explosion of a bomb at the gate to his residence in Caldwell on the evening of December 30, 1905, will face Judge Fremont Wood, prepared to hear the death sentence meted out to him.

Orchard, of his own volition and against the urgent pleadings of his attorney and others, refused, when arraigned March 10, to let his previous plea of "not guilty" stand. He also refused to plead to a lesser degree of murder than first degree. He said:

"I am guilty and am ready to take my punishment. I have told the truth. I understand fully what must be the consequences."

That he earnestly wishes his confession to be believed is known and it is thought that he believes his own punishment in full for the crime he committed will tend to prove the truth of his confession.

LONE BANDIT ROBS A TRAIN.

Great Northern's Oriental Limited
Held Up in Idaho.

Butte, Mont., Mar. 16.—Great Northern officials have been notified that the Oriental Limited, the crack overland train on the Great Northern system, was held up near Bonners Ferry, Idaho, early Sunday morning by a lone highwayman. Both mail clerks were bound and considerable amount of mail matter rifled. No attempt was made to blow open the safe, according to the information received here. No estimate is obtained here as to the probable loss, but it is not believed to be heavy. The bandit escaped, and is believed to be headed toward Spokane, if he is not already in that city.

Negro Dives Are Raided.

New Orleans, Mar. 16.—Following a murder and several attempts at highway robbery by negro desperadoes here, the police Sunday night raided many of the dives and saloons frequented by members of that race. At one saloon alone 165 negroes were placed under arrest. In a raid on a Fulton street barrel house, Robert Johnson, a negro, knocked down a detective and started to run. He was fired on by Special Office Wolf and fell wounded.

Fatal Riots at Port-Au-Prince.

London, Mar. 16.—A dispatch has been received here from Port-Au-Prince, Hayti, to the effect that serious disturbances have occurred at that place. Several persons are reported killed in street fights and many arrests of prominent men have been made. Rumors of several summary executions, the dispatch says, are in circulation.

Bloody Tragedy in San Pedro, Cal.

San Pedro, Cal., Mar. 16.—Gracie Elgueta, a lumber hand, Sunday night shot and probably fatally wounded 11-year-old Margaret Manes, wounded seven-year-old Minnie Shackelford twice, shot her grandfather, James Shackelford through both shoulders, fired at Mrs. A. Manes and was himself killed by policemen. Elgueta was a rejected suitor of Mrs. Manes.

Storms in the Oregon Mountains.

Pendleton, Ore., Mar. 16.—As a result of terrific storms in the mountains the streams are swollen and landslides have been caused which have tied up the overland train service between Portland and the east. Pendleton is cut off on both sides by slides, leaving only the line between Pendleton and Spokane open.

ALLISON SEEMS TO BE IN CONTROL

HAS MAJORITY OF DELEGATES TO IOWA CONVENTION.

TO INSTRUCT FOR TAFT

Hawkeye Republicans, Who Meet on Wednesday, Are for the Secretary of War for President.

Des Moines, Ia., Mar. 16.—Republicans of Iowa will meet in state convention at Des Moines on Wednesday to elect delegates to the national convention at Chicago. There will be 1,184 delegates.

Attorney General H. W. Myers has been selected for temporary chairman. While the permanent chairman has not been decided upon, George D. Perkins is most frequently mentioned for the place.

While there has been considerable rivalry between two factions of the party for control of the convention, the controversy will probably not have any effect on the action of the convention regarding the instructions to the delegates. One faction is headed by Gov. A. F. Cummins, while the other is led by United States Senator William B. Allison. The controversy has centered mostly around the campaign of Senator Allison for reelection to the senate as against the efforts of Gov. Cummins to supplant Allison. The faction that musters the most votes in the state convention will name the delegates-at-large to the national convention and write the platform.

Allison Probably in Control.

Unofficial returns from county conventions, the last of which was held Saturday night, indicate that the adherents of Senator Allison will have a substantial majority of delegates to the state convention. Followers of Allison will probably control the selection of district delegates in seven of the eleven districts of the state. The First, Sixth and Eighth districts have already selected delegates and instructed them to vote for the nomination of Taft for president. It is probable that the state convention will also endorse Taft for president, unless opposition should develop within the next three days.

Senator W. B. Allison.

The men at present slated for delegates-at-large by the supporters of Senator Allison are George E. Perkins of Sioux City, National Committeeman Ernest E. Hart of Council Bluffs, Lafayette Young of Des Moines, and Joseph H. Lane of Davenport. While official caucuses may change this tentative program, it is not thought that any serious controversy will mar the convention. It is even possible that when the convention assembles Gov. Cummins and his adherents may be able to bring about a change among the delegates so as to gain partial or full control of the proceedings.

Hughes to Send Secretary.

Late Sunday night Gov. Hughes of New York telegraphed for rumors for his private secretary, Mr. Reynolds, during the convention. Little Hughes sentiment thus far has developed in the state and the coming of the governor's secretary is not understood here.

Federal Judge Clark Is Dead.

Chattanooga, Tenn., Mar. 16.—Judge Charles D. Clark, of the United States district circuit court, died at Erlanger hospital at 9:30 o'clock Sunday morning, aged 61 years. His death was due to Bright's disease, complicated with tuberculosis. Judge Clark was appointed to the federal bench December 17, 1894, by President Cleveland.

SOCIAL SCIENCE CONGRESS

FIRST PAN-AMERICAN MEETING
IN SANTIAGO DEC. 25.

United States Government and Universities to Be Represented at Important Gathering.

Washington, Mar. 16.—With President Roosevelt's enthusiastic approval, officials of the department of state are endeavoring to add the full weight of the leading social scientists of the United States to the deliberations of the first pan-American scientific congress, which is to be held at Santiago, Chile, next December.

Congress has been asked to appropriate $35,000 that 25 delegates may go to the congress officially representing this country. Besides, the leading universities have indicated their interest and many of them will doubtless be represented independently.

The congress is to consider American social problems, with a view to show the advantage of all countries of this continent regulating in a uniform manner some of their institutions or public departments, thus strengthening their relations of friendship. A comprehensive program to govern the discussion, which is to begin December 25 and continue for ten days, has been arranged. It begins with a review of American civilization, its development and influence on the world. American international law is down for definition and discussion in many phases, including civil, commercial and criminal international law.

INCIDENTAL PANIC QUELLED.

Fire in Holyoke Opera House Nearly Causes Disaster.

Holyoke, Mass., Mar. 16.—A fire panic was narrowly averted Sunday afternoon at the Holyoke opera house where 1,500 men, women and children were witnessing a moving picture show. Suddenly a shout of fire rang through the house and flames and smoke could be seen coming from the wall at the rear of the second balcony. A rush was made for the door and soon hundreds of people from the balconies were pushing and shoving to force their way through and down the stairs to the street.

The theater lights were turned on promptly and the alarm signal sounded, while J. O'Connell, the manager, addressed the audience, announcing that the fire was not serious. Firemen also assisted in enforcing order, with the result that in three and a quarter minutes the house was entirely emptied and not a person had been seriously injured. The fire, which started in a smoking room, was put out after slight damage had been done.

Trouble in Lumber Camps.

Aloha, La., Mar. 16.—Another serious outbreak has occurred in the lumber camps in Grant parish where friction was recently brought about by negroes accepting a cut in wages, according to reports brought here by a special train en route from Verdun, La., to Alexandria, carrying a number of persons said to have been wounded at Verdun.

Railroad Shop Men Laid Off.

Chattanooga, Tenn., Mar. 16.—A general reduction of the shop force of the Queen & Crescent railroad was made effective Sunday, resulting, it is reported, in the laying off of a total of 1,000 men. The road now has just a sufficient number of men at work in the shops of the system to make the necessary repairs.

For Genuine Baked Beans Get

HEINZ

Here's the fact we are hammering on; HEINZ Beans are BAKED—not merely steamed or boiled; but actually baked in dry-heated ovens, after being parboiled just enough to loosen the skin and slightly soften them.

They are mealy and tender; they are mellow and smooth—each bean is absolutely uniform in its goodness, without even a suggestion of that soggy which any other method of cooking will produce. Why then, after knowing this, eat anything but HEINZ baked beans?

Three kinds: Plain Pork and Beans (Boston Style); Vegetarian—without Pork; and With Tomato Sauce.

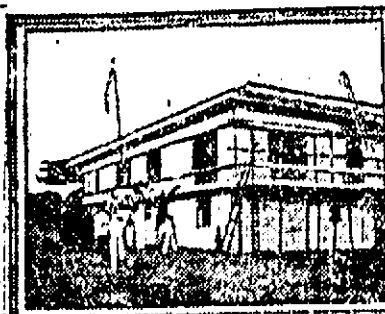

In the two latter the beans are baked with a rich, delicately-spiced sauce made from red-ripe tomatoes, being blended in such a way that the piquant flavor penetrates the entire bean.

Piping hot, fresh from the ovens, HEINZ Baked Beans are sealed in HEINZ Improved Tins (sterilized before and after filling) bringing the flavor and purity unaltered to your table.

Picture at left shows typical government building in the rural districts of the Philippines. Picture at right shows typical street scene in Manila. Picture below shows Corregidor bay at the entrance to Manila bay.

Manila, March 12.—The United States is just now actively engaged in fortifying its Pacific coast possessions. Coal deposits are being replenished, new searchlights installed and harbors mined.

So quietly has this work been going on that few outside of the officials handling the work have realized the enormous undertaking under way. This work was started last May and it is expected that a year will see the completion of the outlined program.

It is acknowledged that the fortifications at Manila, Guam, Pudget Sound and Honolulu are inefficient, and it is at these points that the greatest work is being done. San Francisco and other coast points are declared to be perfectly equipped to repel attacks.

The significant fact in connection with this great work and the enormous outlay of money is there is no authorization for it as yet. The government is doing it practically on credit.

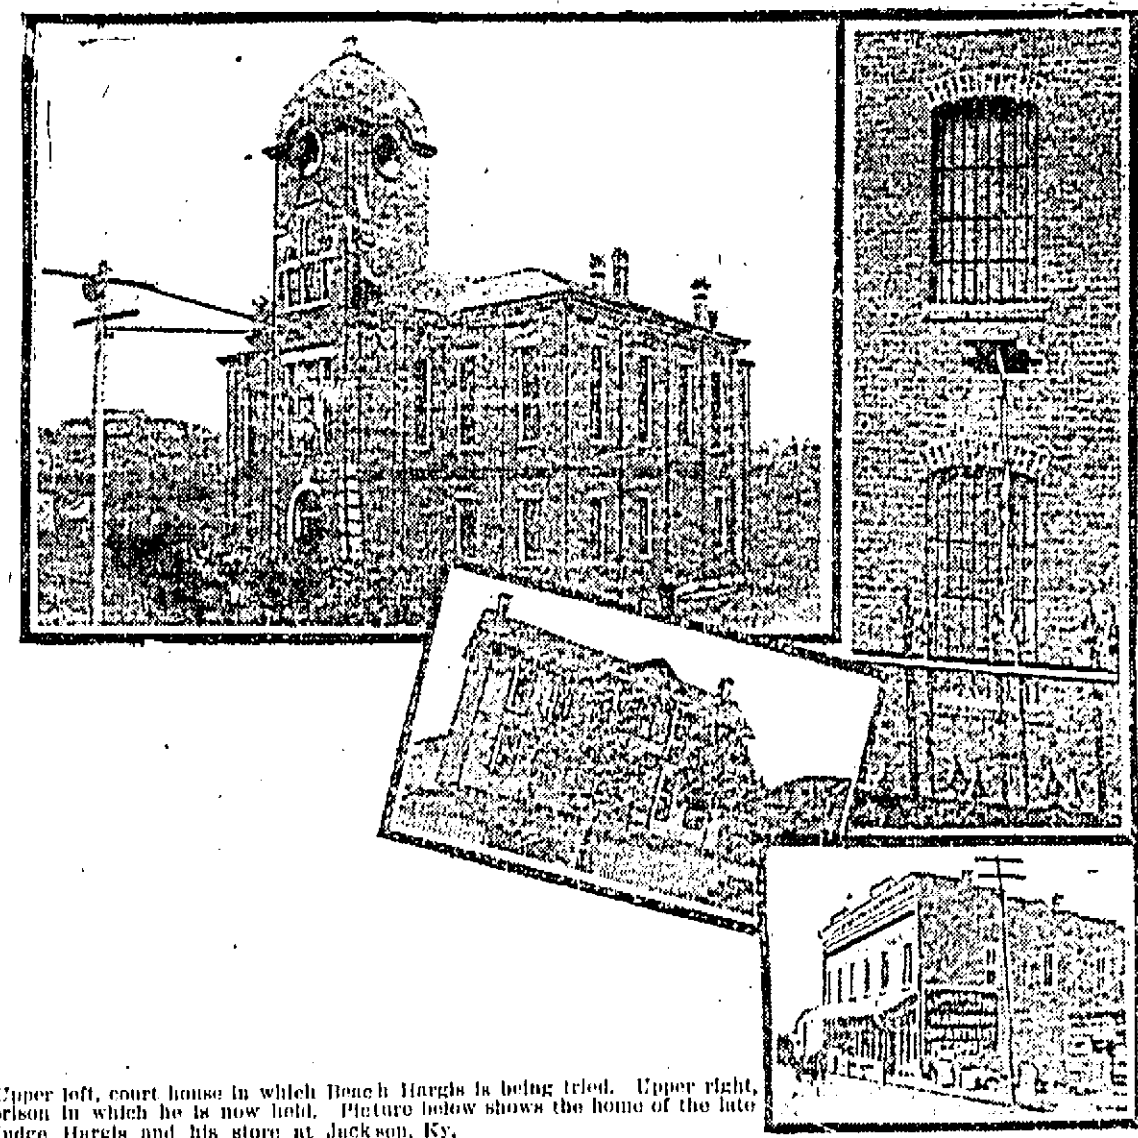

Secretary Taft will recommend an appropriation of $38,000,000 for the army. It is believed this will be at least $10,000,000 more than is needed. Of that sum over $7,000,000 is to be used for the Pacific coast and far west. Another four millions will be used for guns and ammunition.

some of which will probably drift to the Pacific coast points.

It is significant that this huge amount should be utilized in one year when up to the present time the army has had at its disposal for fortifications, mines and torpedoes for insular possessions only $2,710,000.

It is now definitely determined that in the fortification of the Philippines, Cavite instead of Subic bay, will be the naval base. Cavite is situated on a promontory overlooking Manila bay and only 10 miles from the city.

Manila. Another fortification will be constructed on the island of Corregidor, which is located in the neck of Manila bay and completely prevents any access to Cavite or Manila by water. The picture shown above of Corregidor bay shows the location of this fortification. It is situated on the highest point on the mountains in the background, about the center of the picture. This will so completely protect the naval base at Cavite as to make it the strongest naval base in the Pacific.

The Size of An Ad.

Some advertisers believe an ad must be large to be successful. Others think that it should be original in style of display or in what it says. Others again are insistent that it occupies a certain place with each appearance in the newspapers. But these requirements are not essential, not the technique of an advertiser to success. Unless the advertisement carries a convincing business message it will fall down whether large space has been used or the advertisement was uniquely constructed, or if it occupies the most preferential position on the page of a newspaper, for it is the requirements of the business that brings results, but what it says.

A good appearance is valuable to both a salesman and an advertiser. But it is what they say that makes them valuable to the business they represent.

THE KITCHEN GARDEN

The kitchen garden is an important factor in the economic management of the farm. An abundant and constant supply of fresh vegetables is essential to the health, comfort and happiness of the farmer's family. Very few farmers operate productively, well kept gardens. Many make an attempt at it and some none at all, either doing without vegetables altogether, or else buying them. There are possibilities of producing enormous crops of vegetables on very small areas if the proper methods are employed. The following is an account of the results secured by the writer from a miniature garden operated by him on part of a back lot of the residence:

This little piece of ground is 16 1/2 feet wide and 33 feet long, comprising exactly two square rods, or 1,800 ft. of an acre. The garden was established chiefly through curiosity to find out how much vegetables could be produced from a small area under an intensive system of cultivation, but in addition to this it soon became a source of much pleasure and satisfaction as a pastime at which to spend the few leisure moments after the day's work, and also proved to be a useful factor in the practical instruction of the children always on hand to help. The following is a list of the products of the garden during the summer of 1907: Cabbage, 149 1/2 lbs.; tomatoes, (both ripe and pickling) 35 1/2 lbs.; squash, 87 lbs.; carrots, 67 1/2 lbs.; parsnips, 61 lbs.; beets, 45 lbs.; cucumbers, 41 lbs.; string beans, 30 1/2 lbs.; vegetable cress, 27 lbs.; early radishes, 23 1/2 lbs.; corn, 12 1/2 lbs.; lettuce, 12 lbs.; winter radish, 6 1/2 lbs.; peas, 6 lbs.; and seed cress, 1 1/2 lbs.; making a total of 669 1/2 lbs. A record of each individual weight and the date of the same is on file.

The product was carefully weighed on an accurate pair of spring balances as gathered for use. The various articles were weighed in the form in which they would be prepared for sale.

The area of this garden being 1,800 ft. of an acre and the yield of edible material 669 1/2 lbs., the rate of yield per acre would be 263 1/2 tons. The total amount of vegetable growth including everything, stems, vines, leaves, etc., would probably be about double the weight of the edible parts alone.

The smaller vegetables were grown in rows a foot apart, the early, small-earners if the proper methods are employed. The following is an account of the results secured by the writer from a miniature garden operated by him on part of a back lot of the residence:

The first planting of corn failed to germinate entirely, making the second crop very late. Some varieties of radishes grew entirely on top, failing to produce edible roots and the seed onions made but little growth because of disease. The cucumber vines were trained up on a trellis extending three feet above the top of the wire fence; the yield of those was probably diminished somewhat by pulling the fruits when about the size of the little finger, for pickling purposes. The tomato vines were planted along one side of the garden and were fastened to the fence.

The garden was prepared from soil plowed up in the spring of 1907; the soil is a heavy loam and was full of quick grass roots. No fertilizer was used, but a depression running lengthwise of the garden along one side was leveled up by filling with a good soil. Not a drop of water was applied artificially, but water should be made of the fact that conditions for growth during the summer were simply phenomenal. The planting was chiefly done May 18 and 25 and June 6.

A border of flowering plants was grown on the outside of the garden fence, consisting of sweet peas, nasturtiums, nasturtiums and nigella.

THE MYSTERY

COPYRIGHT, 1907, BY M. CLURE, PHILLIPS & CO.

"Well," Pulz began, "we've been here on this spot for a long time."

"A year and five months," reckoned Thrackles.

"A man can do a lot in that time," said Pulz.

"If he's busy," said Thrackles.

"They've been busy," said Pulz.

"Wonder what they've done?"

"There was no answer to this, and the son of a lawyer took a new tack.

"I suppose we're all getting double wages?"

"That's so."

"And that's say four-hunder for us and Mr. Eagen here, I suppose the old man don't let the schooner go for nothing."

"Two hundred and fifty a month," said I and then would have had the words back.

They cried out in prolonged astonishment.

"Seventeen months," pursued the loggish after a few moments. He scratched with a stub of lead. "That makes over $11,000 since we've been out. How much do you suppose his outfit stands him?" he appealed to me.

"I'm sure I can't tell you," I replied shortly.

"Well, it's a pile of money anyway," said Thrackles.

"Nobles," said anything for some time.

"Wonder what they've done?" Pulz asked again.

"Something that pays big," Thrackles supplied the desired answer.

"Don't this," suggested Perdosa.

"Voodoo," muttered the nigger.

"That's to scare us out," said Handy Solomon, with vast contempt. "That's what makes me sure it is the chest."

Pulz muttered some of the jargon of alchemy.

"That's it," approved Handy Solomon. "If we could get it—"

"We wouldn't know how to use it," interrupted Pulz.

"The book," said Thrackles.

"Well, the book," asserted Pulz pugnaciously. "How do you know what it will be? It may be the philosopher's stone and it may be one of these other things. And then where'd we be?"

It was astounding to hear this nonsense babbled about so seriously. And yet they more than half believed, for they were deep sea men of the old school, and this was in print. Thrackles voiced approximately the general attitude.

"Philosopher's stone or not, something's up. The old boy took too good care of that box, and he's spending too much money to be doing it for his health."

"You know what I think?" muttered Perdosa. "He made it himself. He says so."

The nigger had entered one of his black, brooding moods from which these men expected oracles.

"Get him chest," he muttered. "I see him full—full of d'mon's."

They listened to him with vast respect and were visibly impressed. So deep was the sense of awe that Handy Solomon went about enough to whisper to me:

"I don't take any stock in the nigger's talk ordinarily. He's a fool nigger. But when his eye looks like that then you want to listen close. He sees things then. Lots of times he's seen things. Even last year—the Oyama—he told about her three days ahead. That's why we were so ready for her," he chuckled.

Nothing more developed for a long time except a savage fight between Pulz and Perdosa. I hunted sheep, diked, wandered about, always with an escort tired to death before he started. The thought came to me to kill this man and so to escape and make cause with the scientists. My common sense forbade me. I began to think that common sense is a very foolish faculty indeed.

It taught me the obvious—that all this idle, vaporing talk was common enough among men of this class, so common that it would hardly justify a murder, would hardly explain an un-

We killed seals by clubbing them on the forehead.

"There's plenty aboard," he suggested.

"And they're in very good hands there," said I.

He ruminated a moment, polishing the steel of his hook against the other arm of his shirt. Suddenly he looked up at me with a humorous twinkle.

"You're afraid of me?" he accused.

I was silent, not knowing just how to meet so direct an attack.

"No need to be," he continued.

I said nothing.

He looked at me shrewdly, then stood off on another tack.

"Well, sir, I didn't mean just that. I didn't mean you were really scared of us. But you're getting to know each other, hey? Here on this old island, brother-like. There ain't no officers and men ashore—there, now, sir? When we gets back to the old Laughing Lanes, then we drops back into our dooty again all right and proper. You can kiss the book on that. Old Scrubs, he knows that. He don't want no shore in his. He knows enough to stay aboard, where we'd all rather be."

He stopped abruptly, spat and looked at me. I wondered whether this devious diplomacy led us.

"Still, in one way, an officer's an officer, and a seaman's a seaman, thinks you, and discipline must be held up among unless ashore or afloat, thinks you. Quite proper, sir. And I can see you think that the arms is for the afterguard except in case of trouble. Quite proper. You can do the shooting, and you can keep the cartridges always by you. Just for discipline, sir."

The man's boldness in so fully arming me was astonishing, and his carelessness in allowing me aboard with Captain Solover astonished me still more. Nevertheless I promised to go for the desired cartridges, fully resolved to make an appeal.

A further consideration of the elements of the game convinced me, however, of the fellow's shrewdness. It was no more dangerous to allow me a rifle—under direct surveillance—for the purposes of hunting than to leave me my sword or revolver, which I still retained. The arguments he had used against my shooting Perdosa were quite as cogent now. As to the second point, I, finding the sun unexpectedly strong, returned from the cover for my hat and so overheard the following between Thrackles and his leader:

"What's to keep him from staying aboard?" cried Thrackles, protesting.

"Well, he might," acknowledged Handy Solomon, "and then are we the worse off? You ain't going to make a boat attack against Old Scrubs, are you?"

RHEUMATISM

BLOOD FILLED WITH URIC ACID

Rheumatism comes from an excess of uric acid in the blood. This acid circulating through the system acts as an irritant to the different muscles, nerves, bones and tissues of the body, and produces the inflammation and swelling of the joints and the sharp, cutting pains characteristic of the disease. When the blood is overburdened with uric acid it continually grows weaker and more acid, and poorer in nourishing qualities. Then Rheumatism becomes chronic, and not only a painful, but a formidable and dangerous disease. Sometimes the heart is attacked, the general health is affected, and the oils and fluids which lubricate the muscles and joints are destroyed by the acid matter which the blood is constantly depositing in them; the muscles shrink and lose their elasticity, the coating of the joints becomes hard and thick, and often the sufferer is left a helpless cripple. S. S. S. attacks the disease at its head, goes down into the circulation, and by neutralizing and removing the uric acid from the circulation and building up the thin, acid blood, cures Rheumatism permanently. S. S. S. changes the sour, acid-burdened blood to a rich, healthy stream which quiets the excited nerves, eases the throbbing, painful muscles and joints, and filters out of the system the irritating matter which is causing the pain and inflammation. Begin the use of S. S. S. now and get the cause out of your blood so that the cold and dampness of Winter will not keep you in constant pain and misery. Book on Rheumatism and any medical advice free.

Japanese Imperial diet. Picture at right shows the Mikado; below that H. E. Yuan Shi Kai and H. E. Tong Shao-Li. Below that Baron Hayashi on left and Wu Ting Fang on right. Chinese-Japanese Troubles in the Far East.

The principal figures in the Chinese-Japanese controversy of the far east include the Mikado of Japan and the Japanese minister, Baron Hayashi. H. E. Tong Shao-Li, is at present Chinese governor of Manchuria, and was until recently vice-president of the foreign bureau at Peking. H. E. Tong Shao-Li is a victory to the northern provinces and advisor to the throne. It is he who has been introducing modern military methods, modern education and other great reforms in China. He is practically a self-made man and has risen from the lowest grade of official life to the top.

The Japanese and Chinese governments have not as yet come to an understanding in the matter of the seizure of the Taku Maru and the Chinese board of foreign affairs maintain that the case cannot be settled without a thorough inquiry into the facts.

China has proposed that the shipment of arms and ammunition on the Taku Maru be recalled and that the permit for such shipment be cancelled, and she further asks for the suppression of the traffic in arms and ammunition to the mainland through Japanese sources. The Japanese government has intimated its willingness to consider the matter of such assurances.

China's activity to recover full sovereignty in Manchuria has aroused the Japanese to opposition. Japan has raised the standard of her postal officers, increased the effectiveness of her postal system, which is one of the Japanese government's special instruments of aggression, and to increasing the Imperial Chinese post by such means as the following:

Japan refuses China certain postal privileges on the south Manchurian railways to which she is entitled, has broken open Chinese mail bags, secretly confiscated one mail box and contents, and conducts a parcel post over her railways while refusing to carry the parcels of the Chinese post.

China has been aware for some time past that Japan was using her department of communications to extend her authority in Manchuria. Japan substituted for her military post when it was withdrawn at the time of the evacuation a complete postal establishment under a postal commissioner of the Imperial Japanese post who resides at Dairen. China's method of combatting this aggregation has been the reestablishment of her own posts, which were disorganized by the war.

Tokio, March 16.—Some reliable figures are now available, showing the present strength of the Japanese navy as compared with its strength when the war broke out. The totals may be briefly stated, viz: One hundred and fifty-seven vessels of all descriptions representing a tonnage of 283,740 tons before the war, and 201 vessels and 515,082 tons at the present day. Further scrutiny of the figures shows that Japan today possesses more than twice the number of battleships she had before the war, a third as many more armored cruisers, three more other cruisers, nearly three times as many destroyers, but three fewer torpedo boats.
